Attention Property Management Companies, Business Managers & Committee Members

Wondering if your fire alarm needs to be monitored? The short answer is no – by law there is no requirement for your fire alarm system to be monitored.

However, by not monitoring your fire alarm, it means it is only purposeful if someone hears the alarm and acts. When unmonitored, your fire alarm is not working to its full potential to save lives and could be putting the safety of your employees, visitors, assets and business at risk.

What is fire alarm monitoring?

Let us explain exactly what a monitored fire alarm system is.

A monitored fire alarm is when a 24HR monitoring provider professionally monitors your fire alarm system for any alarm activations. If the fire alarm activates the monitoring centre can quickly identify whether or not it is a false alarm and instantly alert the emergency services if required.

ADAM Security monitored fire alarm systems addresses the issue of your fire alarm going unnoticed. If a fire breaks out, out of working hours, who will hear the alarm and report the incident? When the fire alarm is monitored, the responsibility is on our highly trained monitoring personnel so you can have peace of mind that if the fire alarm activates, immediate action will be taken whether you are on-site or not.

6 Benefits of Fire Alarm Monitoring

ADAM Security Fire Alarm Monitoring delivers numerous benefits that improve the overall safety to your premises, be it a business, apartment complex, school or college, house of worship or community centre / clubhouse.

1. Rapid response to alarm activations

Our professionally trained 24HR monitoring personnel will action an emergency response in a matter of minutes, much faster than an individual can in the stressful event of a fire. This, therefore, increases the chances of the fire brigade controlling the fire and reducing the damage to your site

2. Reduce false alarms

False alarms are not only frustrating and annoying, but they can also waste your and the emergency services' time. When monitored, false alarms can be prevented as only confirmed alarms are acted upon. For more information on "confirmed alarms" contact one of our team at info@adamsecurity.ie

3. Reduce business disruption

When fires are detected and acted upon quickly, which it will when being monitored, this can help reduce any potential business disruption and damage to your building, equipment or stock, as well as panic from employees. With your premises having a monitored fire alarm, you will all be able to exit the building calmly and promptly knowing that the fire brigade are already on the way.

4. Reduced risk to employees

ADAM Fire Alarm Monitoring removes the responsibility from you or your employees. You will all be able to exit the building safely if a fire does break out, with no need for employees to attend to the alarm activation and potentially putting their lives at risk.

5. 24/7 Increased protection from fire

ADAM Fire Alarm monitoring operates 24/7, 365 days of the year, meaning your premises is constantly being monitored. You will therefore have increased potential from fire and better overall safety than if your system was unmonitored.

6. Peace of mind

ADAM Fire Alarm monitoring gives you complete peace of mind that someone is keeping a watch on your premises for potential fires breaking out. You therefore don't need to worry if the building is unoccupied, if it's during a weekend or bank holiday, or about putting such responsibility on your staff or committee member.

ADAM Fire Alarm monitoring therefore acts as an additional investment that provides an extra layer of protection for your premises and employees. Although not necessary, it provides peace of mind and confidence that if something did happen
